The Maryland Transit Administration is hosting an Open House regarding the MAGLEV train project this Saturday, October 14, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the BSU Student Center.

A short presentation with a video will start approximately 30 minutes into the meeting. The video will play several times between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Other than the video, there will be no other formal presentation. The project team will be available to answer individual questions as you review maps and other project materials at this "open house" format event.

For several months, federal and state officials have been studying six potential routes for the train service between DC and Baltimore, including four that would pass through or very near Bowie. At this event, officials will share the results of their preliminary analysis and will discuss which routes are being recommended for further detailed study.
